MUST REMAIN IN JAIL

COURT REFUSES

To Grant Writ for the Release of the Strike Leaders

BOSTON, Feb. 6.—In the supreme court today Judge Braley refused to grant a writ of habeas corpus for the release on bail of Joseph Ettor and Arturo Giovannitti, arrested in Lawrence last week charged with being accessories to the murder of Miss Annie Lopizzo.

Judge Braley said that as a matter of policy no one had ever been admitted to bail pending an examination or before an indictment had been found in a murder case.

LATEST FEATURES OF STRIKE

Mills opened at 7.30 this morning.

Increased number of operatives reported for work.

Italians taking their departure. One thousand have gone since strike started.

Weavers and others formulate demands.

Strikers held several meetings today. Halls where they met have been condemned.

SOME WARM WORDS

BY GENERAL ORGANIZER OF THE I. W. W.

While conditions have assumed a milder aspect in Lawrence some dire threats are being made and at least one new leader has arrived. Gilda Marcella of Lynn. He will take the place of Antonio Giovanni. Who is now in jail awaiting a hearing with Joseph Ettor, on charges of being accessories to murder.

William Troutman, general organizer of the I. W. W., is a red hot speaker. He says that a state of rebellion will exist in Lawrence unless Joseph J. Ettor is released. He says that Lawrence is a melting pot wherein is smoldering the mightiest issues that confront and perplex ninety million Americans.

The American Federation of Labor is doing good work in behalf of the strikers and the strikers are receiving encouragement from all over the country and from unexpected sources.

Haywood Denounces Golden

It was announced that the French band would go to Boston, accompanied by several women strikers, to play on the streets of Boston and that the women would take up collections for the strikers. It was announced at a meeting that the loomfixers who are not connected with the I. W. W. had voted last night against returning to work.

Just before the meeting adjourned Haywood delivered a tirade against John Golden of the United Textile Workers, declaring that Golden and his agents were not here for the purpose of organizing but they were here to assist the mill owners.

William Troutman, general organizer of the I. W. W., who came here to assist the strike committee, gave out a lengthy statement this afternoon in which he declares a state of rebellion will exist in Lawrence unless Joseph J. Ettor is released.

"If the court shall refuse to issue a writ to release Ettor," he said "it will assume that Lawrence is in a state of rebellion and that is no longer a strike but actual civil war."

The Lawrence strike has ceased to be local either to the community or to New England. This little town is a melting pot wherein is smoldering the mightiest issues that confront and perplex ninety million Americans."

ATLANTIC MILLS

NOW OPENED FOR ALL WHO WISH TO RETURN

Agent John Curtis of the Atlantic mills said this afternoon that the mill which had been shut down now was open for any of the operatives that wanted to return to work. The plant started up with one quarter of the mill running. The Everett mill is still closed.

REGULAR HOUR

MILLS OPENED AT 5.45 THIS MORNING

LAWRENCE, Feb. 6.—The increase in the number of operatives in this local textile mills which was expected by the mill officials yesterday, but which failed to materialize, was realized to a certain extent today. The mills resumed the regular opening hour of 5.45 this morning, having abandoned the plan of opening at 7.30 which had been in force several days and observers claimed that there was a marked increase in the number of operatives to enter the gates. This gain was far from sufficient, however, to enable the mills to run under anything like normal conditions.

The fact that the increase came today rather than yesterday is accounted for by the general expectation that there would be more of the strenuous work on the part of the strike pickets Monday morning in efforts to keep operatives away from the mills. The militia showed that picketing by forcible means was not to be permitted, however, and this gave those who desired to work renewed confidence today.

Still more Italian operatives left the city today and a further exodus is expected tomorrow. Members of the strike committee went to Boston this morning to attend the habeas corpus proceedings. In the supreme court in an effort to free Strike Leader Ettor.

Meeting of Weavers
Meetings of the weavers of the Arlington, Pacific, Atlantic, Pennington and Everett mills were held during the day in accordance with the plan of the labor union of attempting to get at the actual grievances of the skilled workers so that they can be presented to the mill officials in definite form. This move is backed by the American Federation of Labor, which is working apart from the Industrial Workers of the World, by which the strikers' committee, which has been conducting the strike so far, was appointed.

Four companies of the Eighth regiment which have been on duty here two weeks were relieved today by a battalion of the 5th regiment, comprising Company A of Charlestown, 1 of Malden, B of Medford and G of Woburn in command of Major Watney.

Formulated Demands

The members and leaders of the Arlington mills formulated these demands at a meeting this morning.

- 1—Fifteen per cent. increase.
- 2—The two hours that were taken off returned.
- 3—Do away with premium and bonus system.
- 4—No overtime.

Haywood Returns

William D. Haywood returned here today and reported to the general strike committee that he had collected $81 at Fall River last night and that at the meeting there of 1200 operatives ordering the militia to Lawrence were passed. Haywood announced that he would speak in the following cities this week: New Bedford tonight; Brockton Wednesday night; Lynn Thursday night; Somerville Friday night; and that next Sunday he would speak in Chelsea in the interests of the Lawrence strikers.

In discussing the situation Haywood declared to the members of the strike committee that he, as one of the leaders of the strikers, would refuse to accept any proposition from the mill owners toward a settlement as long as the proposition was tendered "on the end of a bayonet, dripping with the blood of his fellow workers."

Demands of Weavers

The Arlington mill weavers at their meeting this morning appointed a committee of six to retire and prepare a set of demands. The report of the committee, which was submitted about 11 o'clock, was unanimously adopted. It included the following requests:

- 1—Standard price list to be paid by the pick.
- 2—To do away with the double cut system.
- 3—Length of cut to be no longer than 55 yards.
- 4—Fifteen per cent increase in wages.
- 5—Stoppage pay when looms are stopped for something over which the weavers have no control.

James R. Menzie of the central labor union presided at the meeting and there were about 100 weavers in attendance. The committee of six will represent the Arlington mill weavers in the general committee of strikers which is being formed by the central labor union.

VICIOUS ASSAULT

On Two Men Going to Work at the Rendering Works This Morning

Two men who wished to go to work at the Lowell Rendering Co. in South

Lowell were brutally assaulted this morning by three of the strikers who were doing picket work around the premises. A squad of eight local policemen headed by Sergt. William Brown was detailed on the premises but no arrest was made.

According to the police the men assaulted were Andrew Moore and Thomas Green. Mr. Moore, who is about 55 years old, and who has been an employee of the rendering company for over 20 years was going to his work shortly after six o'clock this morning when he was approached by three

Turk strikers, who without the least provocation threw him down and beat him badly. The old gentleman was badly bruised, being struck and kicked into a senseless condition.

Green, who is younger, was also assaulted and badly bruised. These brutalities occurred some distance from the works.

There were about 75 strikers at an early hour this morning doing picket work near the plant of the company, but the presence of the local and Merica police kept them in a quiet mood.

They tried to induce the people not to go to work, but peace was maintained.

One of the strikers in conversation with a police officer made the statement that he could hold as long as the company. He said he was worth $300 and volunteered to show his bank book if the officer so desired. Another also boasted of having on his person the sum of $200.

The five men who were arrested Saturday morning charged with assault on two men employed at the rendering works will be arraigned in court Friday morning. The Lowell police will remain on duty in South Lowell until everything is settled, or at least until all signs of trouble have disappeared.

SLASHED WITH KNIFE

Man Who Raised Ructions in Front Street Was Sent to Jail

An assault which resulted in fatal results occurred last night in front of the house of John J. McKenna, who was in a quarrel with a man named Nicholas with a knife. Fortunately the attack was made on the street, for the man who raised the ructions in front of the house of McKenna, was arrested by the police and taken to the jail.

The man who was arrested, on a complaint of McKenna, was charged with assault and battery and was held in the jail for 30 days in the common jail.

EPWORTH LEAGUE

Elected Officers at Quarterly Meeting

The quarterly meeting and annual election of officers of the Lowell Epworth League union was held last night at the Highland Methodist church. There was a large attendance and considerable routine business was transacted.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, J. E. Lapsley of the Central Methodist church; first vice-president, Miss Ethel Beane of the Graniteville Methodist church; second vice-president, Miss Lena Robinson of the Western Street Methodist church; third vice-president, Miss Elizabeth Porter of the Highland Methodist church; fourth vice-president, Miss Mary Peabody of the Centralville Methodist church; secretary, Miss Grace Mitchell of the Highland Methodist church; and treasurer, William A. Aik of the Central Methodist church.

An excellent entertainment program was carried out, including an address by Rev. William Wood of the Western Street church. He spoke in part as follows:

"All ages have furnished opportunity and incentive to the young and young people now in the spring of life at the beginning of a new century, this 20th century, have boundless opportunities for advancement which are denied to us who have passed the age of our greatest power for accomplishment. But you must remember that the greatest laborer is in one's private life, in the battle which every man wages, in the high doing each day requires. Let every heart front its challenges, two with full courage its energies knowing well that there is no such thing as final defeat for an earnest, honest soul, for to it the life that flows and the life which is to come, will have confidence and a victory which is assured."

"It is a great thing to conquer in defense and to be ready to fight," Dr. Johnson said. "Every man is his own hero to be, and although that might have been true in the John's case, I am inclined to believe that it was hardly true that it is true in the case of our young people. Abraham Lincoln said that the leading rule for every man in every calling is duty. You have in hand before stopping, do all the other pertaining thereto which can be done. Matthew Arnold said that 'there are three tokens of genius: extraordinary understanding, extraordinary conduct, extraordinary exertion.' James A. Garfield said 'the greatest genius is the genius for hard work.' The purpose of life is to hard work. The purpose of life is to hard work. The purpose of life is to hard work."

"The characteristics of heroism lies in truth and its fearless announcement when found, are the surest safeguards against the reactionary influences over in evidence, forces forever trying to block the wheels of progress, stagnate the minds of evolution and stay the progress of the world. The purpose of life is to hard work. The purpose of life is to hard work. The purpose of life is to hard work."

Salves Can't Cure Eczema

It is hard to slay diseases, medical authorities are now agreed on this. Don't happen the disease germs in your skin by the use of greasy salves, and thus encourage them to multiply. A free cure of all skin diseases can be brought about only by using the healing agents in the form of a liquid. WASH THE SKIN OUT.

A simple wash, a compound of Oil of Wintergreen, Eucalypti and other ingredients as analyzed in the D. D. Prescription. This prescribes to the disease germs and destroys them, then soothes and leads the skin as nothing else has ever done.

A 25 cent trial bottle will start the cure and give you instant relief. We have made our friends of more than one family by recommending this D. D. Prescription to a skin sufferer here and there and want you to try it now on our positive no pay guarantee.

Frederick B. Emerson, manager of the Lowell Auto, Corp., in Appleton street, is wearing one of those sunny, pleasing smiles, and if you ask him the reason why he is doing so his answer will be at least it was to me. "In the first place business is good, in fact it is better than it has been since I took charge of this garage and I might say that it is excellent, but that is not all. There is a surplus in store and while I do not care about status which it has at the present time, there is going to be something doing in this garage and take it from me the Buick car will this year stand out in the limelight more so than it has for the past few years despite the fact that the Buick has always held the record as the best selling car on the market. At times we have had many orders which we could not fill, owing to the demand being greater than the production, but with the added factories and increase in the number of employees at the various plants, we are now ready to deliver cars promptly."

Speaking about the Buick cars, he recalls to the attention of the writer that all the records of the orders for Buick cars this year are far over those of Buicks for the previous year. He showed the requisition for a new Buick car for the Buick Auto Co. of Minneapolis, Minn. for $4,000, the order being double that of the California requisition which was sent into the head office of Buick, Mich., several weeks ago. The order for the California car was 211, but when it comes to going up to the consignee of Buick cars that's going some.

The output of the different factories of the Buick plant is 125 cars per day and this big order will necessitate the employment of 2000 men for over a week and when the cars are assembled it will take 100 railroad cars to

BRISK BUSINESS

Many Automobiles Sold During Past Week

The local automobile dealers are enjoying a brisk business at the present time. Many sales have been made during the past week and the different repair shops throughout the city have much work ahead. In speaking with the different dealers throughout the city the writer found that every one, without exception, has done a much better business up to date this year than he did one year ago and each expects a big increase in business in the future. The appearance of the new models in the different salesrooms has attracted the prospective purchaser and the salesmen are kept busy explaining the various good qualities of the cars.

Pat Keegan, the well known six-day rider, is getting his racing machine into prime shape. He has taken the car apart and while he is turning up the engine painters are at work on the machine. Pat says that he will need the machine at the democratic caucus to be held in Lowell for he is a candidate for the office of collector. Last year Pat was a candidate but was defeated. He is in hopes that he will have better luck this year. Pat's only regret is that the office could not be won by victory in a bicycle or automobile race.

The Lowell branch of the Chauffeurs' Federation of America will meet Thursday night at the Lowell Automobile Corp. garage in Appleton street, at which time it is expected that there will be a big increase in the membership. The object and purpose of the association is to promote the welfare, comfort and convenience of motor car drivers, promote a feeling of good fellowship, provide suitable quarters for the local chauffeurs as well as the drivers of automobiles from out of town, where there can be good entertainment, good current literature and refreshment, also to raise the social standing and secure recognition of the rights and position in society.

A few of the things which the organization wants to secure from the next legislature are:

1st. The removal of the state tax on chauffeurs, as we do not consider it just for the state to tax any man for earning a livelihood, nor is it just for a chauffeur to be taxed for driving without a chauffeur's license, without passing the same examination as every motor car driver, whether owner or chauffeur, should be obliged to pass the same examinations.

2d. Examinations should be before a board of competent examiners, not before a board appointed by political pull. We purpose to eliminate politics and pull, and to give every man a fair examination. Examination should be before a board of competent examiners, not before a board appointed by political pull. We purpose to eliminate politics and pull, and to give every man a fair examination. Examination should be before a board of competent examiners, not before a board appointed by political pull. We purpose to eliminate politics and pull, and to give every man a fair examination.

3d. Laws should be made which compel owners of taxicabs and other motor cars to keep them in repair and see that all parts are at all times in a condition that tends to the safety of the driver, as well as the occupants of the car.

4th. Taxicab and other motor car companies should be responsible for sending out cars in poor condition. If they do not, they should be held responsible where it belongs, and the chauffeur, recognized, that he may receive the benefit which rightly belongs to him.

The Lowell Chauffeurs' club, which is composed of chauffeurs of this city, will also hold a meeting at the Lowell Automobile Corp. garage on the 11th night. Practically every member of the club is a member of the recently formed organization of the Chauffeurs' Federation of America. The local club, however, is an independent organization and last week when officers were elected and a new constitution was adopted, it was found that the club is at the present time on a sound financial basis. At the meeting to be held Thursday night officers will be elected and arrangements made for the annual social and dancing party which is to be held in one of the local halls in the near future.

TRANSPORT THE AUTOMOBILES TO THEIR DESTINATION

Make them and have them consistent with good workmanship

Dr. Frank H. Gulliland has been directed by the Lowell Automobile corporation, William H. G. Wright has also been directed a similar car.

Mr. Charles A. Hutchins has accepted a position as salesman with George E. White, local agent for the Reo car, whose salesrooms are at 185 Middlesex street.

Mr. E. O. Tabor has purchased a Maxwell through the agency of Donald A. Mackenzie. This car is a very attractive one and Mr. Mackenzie has many prospective purchasers.

Mr. Stephen L. Rochette, of the Lowell Motor Mart, at the corner of Middlesex and Tilden streets, is doing a brisk business these days and although he has sold a number of Ford cars during the past week as is usual he has received many requests from purchasers not to have their names made public until the cars have been delivered.

He has the different models on show in his sales rooms which cannot fail to attract the attention of the prospective purchaser or the person who wishes to exchange a car and he and his clerks are kept busy demonstrating the capability of the machine.

During the past week he sold a Ford torpedo runabout to Lawyer A. C. Howell and a five passenger touring car to J. P. Jeffrey.

Mr. Rochette has also received a large shipment of Fiske tires and has installed an electric vulcanizer in his repairing department.

Three brand new cars—Oakland models 30, 32 and 45 arrived at the Moody Bridge Garage yesterday afternoon. All three cars are beautiful in design and in mechanical construction. The model 30 is a touring car with a dark blue body with narrow white stripes; model 40 has a green body with black hood and black running gear, while model 45, the green body, is finished in dark blue with light blue stripes. The model 32, which is a roadster, is also a marvel of beauty.

The R. C. H., a low priced, self starting car, although a new car to be introduced in this city, promises to become one of the most popular. The agent has been awarded to Clarence E. Lesuer, an ambitious young man, who understands the mechanism of the car. Mr. Lesuer has a large number of prospective customers who are awaiting pleasant weather for a demonstration. Mr. Lesuer resides at 15 Middlesex street, and may be reached by telephone. He would be pleased to demonstrate the R. C. H. to all contemplating the purchase of a car and especially would like to be given a chance to thoroughly explain the self-starting device. Catalogues will be sent upon request.

Tom Williston of the Stanley garage at 610 Middlesex street, who promotes the sales of Stanley steamers in this city looks forward to making many sales during the coming season. Tom expects the 1912 Stanley with in a few days and he says that he will bless the day they arrive for he has been besieged with inquiries concerning the models.

Although all of the steamers owners in this city bring their cars to Tom's place in the garage at the present time undergoing repairs, he can handle a few more and address automobilists to bring their cars in for examination at this time so that every part of the mechanism may be examined.

The spacious garage and showrooms in Howard street, formerly occupied by Mackenzie and Bryant, have been repaired by Mr. E. N. Cossette who will this season display 12, M. E. and Standard cars in Lowell and surrounding towns. An up-to-date repair shop has been fitted up and is now ready to attend to all wants of automobilists. The latest system of vulcanizing has been installed. Mr. Cossette has given full charge of the repair and vulcanizing plants to Mr. E. T. Quebec, a mechanic and owner of the local automobile garage, who has been employed in garages in this city as well as many of those in Boston and larger cities. Mr. Quebec has spent many months in factories where cars are assembled and acquired a vast knowledge of the mechanism of the various machines. He is an authority on matters and has many cars on the floor of the repair shop and many are being overhauled for next season. The prices are as low as it is possible.

ANTY DRUDGE

Better Follow Anty Drudge's Advice.

Mrs. Newbridge—"Yes, but this is the way mother washed. She always said to boil the clothes good and long."

Anty Drudge—"Yes, and your mother wore hoopskirts, and a poke bonnet, and did her sewing by hand, when she was young. But I don't see you doing those things. Take my advice and use Fels-Naptha soap in cold or lukewarm water. Those pretty white hands will last longer and so will your health."

Every woman inherits certain ways of doing housework from her mother as the mother did from her grandmother. One of these ideas from ancient times concerns the washing of clothes. "Boil 'em, Boil 'em good," is the old tradition. Until the invention of Fels-Naptha soap that was the only way to wash. Now, isn't it foolish to keep on boiling clothes, and rubbing them hard, when a way to wash better in cold or lukewarm water with no hard rubbing has been found?

Clothes last longer with no boiling to weaken their fibre. Every progressive woman is glad to get rid of the hot fire, steam and suds, as well as the back-breaking work of hard rubbing.

But there's a right way and a wrong way to use Fels-Naptha. Start right. Follow the directions on the wrapper and you'll have a better, easier, cleaner way of washing. For other reasons which are explained on the red and green wrapper, Fels-Naptha is just as superior for all kitchen purposes as it is for washing.

OCEAN TO OCEAN

New Route From Atlantic to Pacific

A splendid illustration of the influence exerted by transcontinental path-finding tours is demonstrated by the recent formation of the Ocean to Ocean Highway association which was organized during the recent tri-state road convention held at Phoenix, Arizona, for the purpose of selecting a route and promoting the construction of a trunk highway from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Much credit is due Governor Sloan of Arizona for his efforts to improve highway conditions by calling together the good roads enthusiasts of California, New Mexico and Arizona at the request of the Arizona Good Roads association to discuss the most feasible routes and to make plans for securing appropriations for their early construction.

In a report to the Touring Club of America, President T. G. Norris of the Arizona Good Roads association, advises that the convention was well attended by prominent citizens from Los Angeles and San Diego, Cal., Albuquerque, New Mexico, Tucson, Phoenix, Arizona, and from several other cities along the proposed route.

President Norris states that the route originally surveyed and charted by the representative of the Touring Club of America in the fall of 1910 from Raton, New Mexico, through Santa Fe, Albuquerque, Carlsbad, San Antonio, El Paso and Mesquite Lake, Mexico, Salomville, Globe, Roosevelt to Phoenix was adopted and that the route west from Phoenix to Los Angeles passing through Yuma, Arizona, Mammoth, California, west to Mecca through Beaumont, Redlands Junction and Compton to Los Angeles forming a part of the "Old Trail" itinerary included in the path-finding trip of Thomas W. Wilby, special agent of the office of public roads, department of agriculture, and official representative of the Touring Club of America last fall was adopted for the western section.

This is only one of many instances through the west where routes across the various states surveyed by the Touring Club of America's transcontinental path finders, have been adopted by the state highway authorities and endorsed by the good roads associations and civic organizations, proving most conclusively that the whole country is alive to the need of improved highways. The charting of such transcontinental tours, as conducted during the past two years under the direction of the Touring Club will lead to immediate attention, bringing forth results not only in the building of highways which these routes pass, but is arousing interest in other sections of the country with a view to building parallel roads as well as cross-state highways, to open up some and historic sections of the country which have never before been available to motor tourists.

Pathfinder Wilby of the Touring Club of America, who last fall completed the first double transcontinental tour of the United States, in commenting upon the adoption of the routes originally surveyed by the Touring Club as a part of the plan to open up the highway system of the country, said: "I am convinced that the building of a transcontinental highway system with the people themselves, and in proof of this I have only to refer to the territorial highway which is now being planned by the people of Arizona. What I believe to be a masterpiece of the modern age of organization, the need every where of a road system, for all roads of unimproved sections for good roads is imperative. In many localities the interest is chiefly local, while in some cases it is seriously as to what is being done by its neighbor or looks beyond its borders as to the Survey a county committee building it and every effort must be made to get the route established from state to state which requires a pre-concerted plan of cooperation of the states and a recognition of the significance and importance of this work in which the best of every good roads enthusiast is needed.

AT STATE ARMORY

Co. C Defeated Co. M in Basketball

In the inter-company games at the state armory a mix-up developed last night and the only contest to be pulled off was the basketball game between Co. C and Co. M. The shooting match saw only the Co. C men present and in the bowling match scheduled for the Crescent across the Company M men were the only ones to put in an appearance. The M men bowled their regulation three strings and claim four points in the league standing. The result of the bowling was as follows:

Company M	1	2	3	Totals
MARTIN	14	84	81	179
RHODES	111	84	83	278
TOLIN	87	114	95	296
McLAREN	84	123	95	302
Totals	415	483	444	1342

BASKETBALL
In the basketball game Company C won by the score of 21 to 9. The game was very exciting and many good plays were made by both teams. The first half ended with the score 13 to 7 in favor of the C men. In the second half the C team increased its lead, practically walking away from their opponents. The summary:

Took Three Points From N. E. T. &amp; T. Quintet

The Fairmounts and the N. E. T. & T. Co. team met in the alleys last night and the former quintet took three points. In the first string the Fairmounts rolled 500, taking the point by just thirty pins. Both teams fell down in the second string and the "Hello boys" took the point. The Fairmounts came back in the last string and took it by 20 pins, and with the total received three points. The feature of the match was the rolling of Coleman of the winners. He was the only man to get by the 300 mark, his total being 312.

ANNUAL MEETING

Directors of Lowell Hosiery Elects Officers

The annual meeting of the board of directors of the Lowell hosiery was held yesterday and officers were chosen for the ensuing year. Dr. James H. Sparks was elected treasurer to succeed Earl A. Blissell. The board of directors will remain the same as last year. The following officers were chosen: President, A. G. Pollard; vice president, Frank L. Chipman; and clerk, Walter H. Howe. The remaining members of the board are: Arnes Pratt, A. C. Russell, A. D. Carter, George L. Hinton and E. P. Dennis.

"SHINTCAST DOPE"

A Little More Hot Stuff While Waiting

"Paddy" Baumann, former second sacker of the Whalers, who was somewhat of a favorite with New England fans on account of his fine playing, balks on going on the southern trip in the spring with the Tigers. He is reckoned as one of the most promising ball players of Hugley Jennings' recruits gathered during the season of 1911.

"Paddy" is not trying to follow the footsteps of Ty Cobb. In a letter written before the "Georgia Peach" made the announcement that he did not care to take the trip and had been excused from duty by President Navin, he sent the news. And it is not fear of making a poor showing on the trip that makes "Paddy" want to stick around his home, while his fellow Tigers delight the fans of the lush towns with so-called big league exhibitions.

Baumann is afraid of malaria. In the New England league, where he played as a Whaler last summer, the Lowell club had two men, Wright and Flaherty, who had been members of a nine in the southland and had had caught the malaria bug and had not recovered from the attacks. And when Old Set blazed forth on the hot days they were practically useless and once one of these players was stricken on the field while "Paddy" was playing against them, he has not forgotten the incident and this is the main reason for not wanting to work out in the south.

But the fear of malaria is not the only cause of Paddy's hesitancy about taking the trip. Anyone who has met Baumann realizes that he is a straightforward chap with good ideas, and once he makes up his mind, it is hard to swerve him from his determination. He thinks it is useless for anyone to train over a month to be in the best of condition and feels that every day over four weeks spent in training is wasted time.—Lynn Item.

As long as Mike Donlin maintains the standard in batting he made last season he is assured a permanent job with the Boston Nationals.

Marty O'Toole, like Mathewson, the late Addie Joss and others, has turned author. He is to write baseball stories for the St. Paul Dispatch.

Although the record of Walter Johnson has been disputed, he is still claimed to be a real strike-out king. He fanned out 537 men in 54 games in 1910.

Charles A. Moore, an infielder, procured from the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast league, sent in his signed contract to the Chicago National league club.

There are only three players in the American league that have been there since 1901. These men are Lajoie, Sullivan and Plank, and all three are good ones at the present time.

It will not be long before 15 clubs will be scattered over eight states below the Mason and Dixon line. There will be over 1000 players of the major and class AA minor leagues that will invade Dixie.

Victor Salter, the young first baseman of the Chicago National league baseball club, narrowly escaped serious injury the other day, when a street car came into collision with his automobile. Salter sustained only a shaking up.

Billy Kelley, formerly St. Paul catcher, but now with the Pirates, is anxious for the ball season to open—not so much to try himself out, but to help his battery partner, Marty O'Toole.

MORIARTY AND QUILL

In Main Bout at Lowell Social Club

The program arranged for this week's meeting of the Lowell Social and Athletic club is one of the best that Matchmaker Gardner has secured this season. Mr. Gardner in signing these men for the meeting had them make a deposit. This system will be maintained during the remainder of the season. For the main bout of 12 rounds Jimmy Moriarty of Lowell will appear against Tommy Quill of Brockton. Moriarty is a clever performer and in securing him the management has complied with the wishes of many of the members. Since the last showing at the local club Jimmy has engaged in several important matches and has met with great success. He started yesterday to train for Friday night's match and promises to be in the best of condition. The mention of Quill's name at last week's meeting was met with great applause which signifies that he is popular here. He is one of the best men in the business at his weight and has a long list of victories to his credit. The bout is sure to be a cracker-jack and undoubtedly all the members will be on hand. In the semi-final Young Buster of Pawtucket, a great favorite here, will tackle Kid Heardon of Brockton. Both are good men and should put up a good exhibition. The opening number will introduce Kid Brown of Lowell and Joe Hennessy of Newton. The meeting will be held as usual on Friday night and in Mathew hall.

The following players have now signed with the Boston Nationals: Tenney, Kling, Brady, Miller, Gowdy, Brown, McGuire, Taylor, Pfeiffer, Kirk, Brider and Monahan. President Ward said that five other players have agreed to his terms, and he looks for their signed contracts any day.

Jimmy Casey, famous third baseman, who played with the majority of the big leagues in the past 20 years, has given up the game for good. He has recently been appointed postmaster at Detroit, and his services for Uncle Sam, combined with his drug business, will keep the doctor busy.

The statement that Grover Alexander will be highest salaried second-year pitcher in major league history is not believed by a member of the Pittsburgh team. This player is willing to swear that Marty O'Toole's first season contract will show more money than Alexander's second.

Another about Ty. Somebody asked Ty Cobb the other day what pitcher kept him closest to the first sack. He promptly replied, "Warrior of the New York Americans." He also admitted that Krapp of the Naps and Ed Walsh of the Sox were other heavies upon which it was difficult to make much of a lead.

Many followers of the game expect to see the Phillies make a fine showing this year. Dooin is certainly well versed with thrilling material. They are Alexander, Moore, Chapman, Slutz, Curtis, Seaton, Rabinowitz, Kutz, Masters, Hall, Ward, Seaman, Brennan, Hunt and Oldham. The latter three are southpaws.

Pres. Charles W. Murphy of the Chicago National league club, following up the suggestion of Barney Dreyfuss of the Pittsburgh club that a prohibition clause be put in ball player's contracts, said at Chicago Thursday night that he would like to see the big leaguers prevented from engaging in the saloon business. He said he proposes introducing a rule at the next National league meeting which will prohibit ball players from purchasing or holding interests in saloons or establishments of a like nature.

It has been decided to put the Indian sign only on the sweaters of the Boston players, so they have a chance yet to claim for no player wears the sweater in action. The uniforms have been selected and the word "Boston" will appear, as usual, across the shirt fronts. President Ward has an idea for a new cap. It is a cross between a golf cap and a traveling cap. He thinks the present style cap is bad. It makes a big fellow look like Kelly.

AT Y. M. C. A.

LOCAL TEAM PLAYS WM. READ

The Lowell Y. M. C. A. basketball team will meet the William Read Five of Boston at the local gymnasium on Third street next Saturday evening. The latter team is considered one of the best in the state and as the local quintet is out to capture the state championship a clever game is expected. Between the periods of the game the strong centralities of this city will play the "Heron" of Chelmsford. This contest is expected to be a good one as both teams are putting up a fast article of basketball at the present time. The first game will be called at eight o'clock and a large attendance is expected.

The members of the committee in charge of the Branchline Brothers circus to be given at the local Y. M. C. A. during the month of March are making great preparations for the affair. It is expected that the final program will be completed in a short time and that it will be one of the best performances ever given by the clever troupe.

Is Forced to Abandon Panama Flight

NEW ORLEANS, La., Feb. 6.—Robert J. Collier of New York, who had planned an aeroplane flight from the Atlantic to the Pacific along the route of the Panama canal, has temporarily abandoned the plan owing to the illness of his wife. She is suffering from a severe cold and when she is able to travel will go to Florida.

FOOTBALL RULES

Walter Camp in Favor of Changes Made

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 6.—Walter Camp, athletics adviser of Yale, stated last night that he thought the changes in the rules made by the football rules committee, and one rule that could be taken to make the rules of the game permanent. In speaking of the changes he said: "The changes had to be very marked, in order that the offensive team be given a better chance. When the game is taken up again the plays will be more brilliant. Under the new rules there are some excellent chances for great plays. The scoring will be easier and there will be more running. We have allowed the blocking of the ends going down under a kick. This is an important step. It allows the back field man making the catch to make some very pretty plays. The increase of the value of a touchdown from five to six points is another step in favor of the running game. The elimination of the 20-yard zone, is, in my mind, a splendid move toward the general simplification of the game. The changes were necessarily marked, but they helped in the general simplification of the game. We have been hoping each year that the rules from the time they were changed would be permanent. With the present changes the game will bring out more running and is generally simplified."

THE DYNAMITE PLANT

The planting of the dynamite in the city of Lawrence to cast suspicion upon the mill operatives on strike was one of the most dastardly proceedings that could be conceived. Why any sane man should be guilty of such a cowardly act is a mystery. If there is evidence sufficient to convict any man of this crime he deserves to be punished to the full extent of the law.

THE LAWRENCE MURDERS

It is now conceded by detectives who have been trying to unravel the mystery surrounding the Lawrence murders that the tragedy had no connection whatever with the strike, the apparent motive being robbery. It is to be hoped that the perpetrator of the crime will be apprehended and brought to justice as this quadruple tragedy was one of the worst ever committed in New England.

MOFFATT'S PENSION

Mayor O'Donnell will earn the gratitude of the citizens of Lowell if he succeeds in blocking the payment of ex-Supt. Moffatt's pension. It is really disgraceful to have an ex-police official drawing $1000 annually from the city while going about, so far as anybody can see, in perfect health and apparently in better condition for police work than scores of those still in the department. This imposition upon the city has turned public opinion against the pension system in the police department, and it has also helped to prevent the patrolmen from getting an increase to which they claim they are entitled on the ground that they have not had an increase for nearly thirty years.

ASPECTS OF THE LAWRENCE STRIKE

The Lawrence strike is attracting attention throughout the entire country and social workers and socialistic leaders are going to the scene in large numbers in order to see to what extent they can solve the problem that has led to such a conflict between the mill operators and their employees.

So far as the investigations have gone, it appears that there is little doubt that hundreds of the operatives were imposed upon when first brought to Lawrence. In that respect the Lawrence situation has an aspect of its own that does not apply to other mill cities, and if the mill operators or any of them be responsible for that imposition they deserve little sympathy if they reap as they have sown.

Another aspect in which the Lawrence strike differs from any that ever occurred in New England is that it has been seized by the socialistic leaders of the country as a means of precipitating a social revolution. Haywood, Ettor, Yates and several other prominent socialists are there not to settle the strike but to extend it from Lawrence to other cities. That being the case the decision of the Lawrence C. I. U. to interest the American Federation of Labor in bringing about an equitable adjustment should be a source of satisfaction not only to all the strikers but to operators as well.

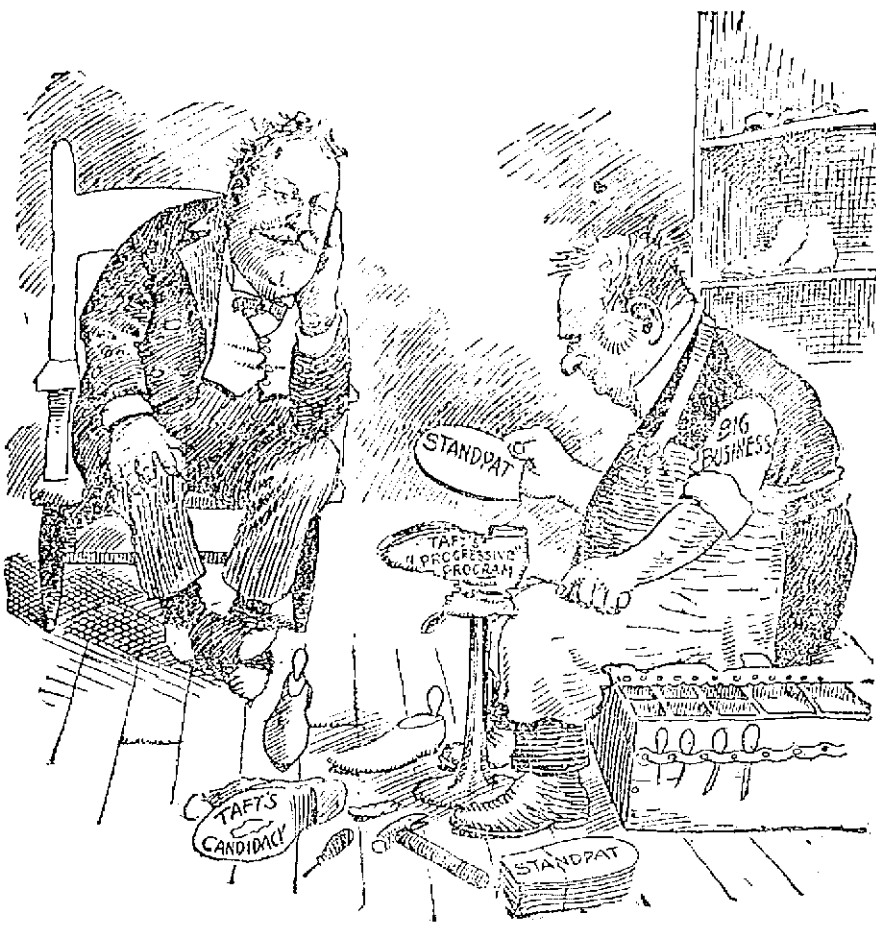

In view of the extremely high prices of the necessities of life it is no wonder that the operatives rebelled when they saw their meager wages undergo curtailment even though it resulted directly from a reduction in the working hours. It is claimed by the operatives in Lawrence that the machinery was so speeded up as to turn out as much work in 54 hours as it formerly did in 56. That may not apply to all the Lawrence mills and hence it would be unfair to make such a sweeping charge against the mills in general.

But there is no doubt that the operatives in some of the Lawrence mills, particularly the Wood mill, were not receiving living wages. Many of them may be unskilled and able to do only the roughest work, but nevertheless, they should receive enough to afford them a fairly decent living which for the average operative means only the simple necessities of life.

The high protective system is undoubtedly responsible for most of the evils which the working people of this country endure at the present time. As a result of the increased cost of living the purchasing power of the dollar has been reduced by fully one-half from what it formerly was. Wages have not increased in proportion. That is where the chief trouble comes between employer and employee in the Lawrence mills. So far as this question is concerned it is the same in other cities as in Lawrence, although it appears that the mills of Lawrence are paying less than the average wage paid by other mills.

The whole industrial system is affected by the excessive tariff, and nothing will bring about the necessary change except a substantial reduction in the tariff that has built up the mammoth trusts and given them the power of monopoly to levy what prices they please for the necessities of life.

The republican party is directly responsible for this state of affairs, because the policy of excessive protection is responsible for the evils of the trust combination and tariff extensions that have become intolerable to the masses. The policy was to have been changed four years ago, but at that time the republicans instead of carrying out their pledge of tariff revision downward yielded to the demand for revision upward. They have since been compelled to admit their error, and President Taft has been apologizing for the party policy as well as for his own mistakes ever since. The country is now convinced that a change is necessary, but the numerous tariff policy has been carried too far and the reconstruction will be attended with difficulties and industrial disturbances that will temporarily injure the business interests throughout the country. The republican party when allowed to remain too long in power reaches the same condition as it did before Cleveland's time, and then goes out on the verge of a panic, blaming the incoming administration for all the trouble. The democratic party will undoubtedly be put in control of the government at the next presidential election, and it will have some difficult problems to meet in establishing a just tariff that, while protecting the industries needing protection, will not offer any inducements to the formation of trusts or speculative combines. It will have to restore domestic competition and not restrict foreign competition to such an extent as it is barred by the present system.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Fitchburg News: Colonel Roosevelt pleads in the Outlook in regard to woman suffrage. It is so much less important than many other reforms that I have never been able to take a heated interest in it. But tariff revision is an important reform, and Colonel Roosevelt has carefully refrained from taking a heated interest in that.

TALE OF TWO CITIES

New Bedford Mercury: Mayor Higgins of Fall River has directed the city solicitor to institute certain proceedings to determine the correctness of the ruling of the state board of appeals in requiring the city to turn over to New Bedford street railroad franchise taxes that have been awarded to it. It is not that Fall River has any faith in the constitution. It is stated, but the action, we are told, will operate to defer immediate payment, which would be somewhat inconvenient to make at the present time.

The mayor of Fall River seems not to cherish the reputation and honor of his city very highly.

ment. During the afternoon Miss Lottie Vinal and Fred Wilson, entertained with well rendered songs. Selections were given by the school band and the boys also gave many vocal selections. In all the program was one of the most enjoyable in the history of the school.

There were large congregations present at both services in the Congregational church Sunday. At the morning service Rev. William C. H. May spoke on "An Unusual Talent in the Churches." In the evening he gave the first of a series of talks on "The Lives of Jesus Christ." He took "The Life of Jesus Christ" as the subject of his opening address. The church society had charge of the musical portion of the evening service and sang Woodward's "The Radiant Moon." Miss Elizabeth Tattersall also contributed a pleasing solo.

The Catholic club held its regular meeting on Sunday evening and completed the adoption of the constitution and by-laws. A debating club was formed at the meeting which will be known as the Father Scholastic Debating society, and will have for its president, Capt. It is intended to hold a debate on some topical subject the third Sunday of each month after the regular business of the club has been transacted.

TO GROW HAIR ON A BALD HEAD

BY A SPECIALIST
Thousands of people suffer from baldness and falling hair, who, having tried nearly every advertised hair tonic and hair-grower without results, have resigned themselves to baldness and its attendant disadvantages. Yet their case is not hopeless. The following simple home prescription has made hair grow after years of baldness, and is also unequalled for restoring gray hair to its natural color, stopping hair from falling out, and destroying the dandruff germ. It will not make the hair greasy, and can be put up by the hairdresser. It is made from the following ingredients: One-half ounce of Castor Oil, one-half ounce of Olive Oil, one-half ounce of Sweet Almond Oil, one-half ounce of Rosemary Oil, one-half ounce of Lavender Oil, one-half ounce of Eucalyptus Oil, one-half ounce of Peppermint Oil, one-half ounce of Clove Oil, one-half ounce of Wintergreen Oil, one-half ounce of Thyme Oil, one-half ounce of Sage Oil, one-half ounce of Marjoram Oil, one-half ounce of Basil Oil, one-half ounce of Fennel Oil, one-half ounce of Caraway Oil, one-half ounce of Coriander Oil, one-half ounce of Cumin Oil, one-half ounce of Mustard Oil, one-half ounce of Sesame Oil, one-half ounce of Sunflower Oil, one-half ounce of Cottonseed Oil, one-half ounce of Peanut Oil, one-half ounce of Corn Oil, one-half ounce of Soybean Oil, one-half ounce of Rapeseed Oil, one-half ounce of Olive Oil, one-half ounce of Castor Oil, one-half ounce of Sweet Almond Oil, one-half ounce of Rosemary Oil, one-half ounce of Lavender Oil, one-half ounce of Eucalyptus Oil, one-half ounce of Peppermint Oil, one-half ounce of Clove Oil, one-half ounce of Wintergreen Oil, one-half ounce of Thyme Oil, one-half ounce of Sage Oil, one-half ounce of Marjoram Oil, one-half ounce of Basil Oil, one-half ounce of Fennel Oil, one-half ounce of Caraway Oil, one-half ounce of Coriander Oil, one-half ounce of Cumin Oil, one-half ounce of Mustard ## LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

If the horse hadn't stumbled and if Will Denning hadn't broken an arm, he might be depicting the fact that race tracks are closed down in the principal cities now instead of making up eight times a week for the character of Nat Danvers in "The Fortune Hunter."

Denning was a boy who was "never going to amount to anything." Every one told him that, so when he was thirteen years old he ran away from home and tried to become a cowboy at the Hawthorne. He got out in Chicago. His first troupe was "The Four Seasons." A broken arm, however, is how he happened to get into the theatrical business. His first professional engagement was as a "prizefighter" at Hooley's theatre, Chicago. This was back in the old days, and all the work so well that he was given a permanent position at five dollars a week. However, he soon grew tired of being bossed by the manager, and he decided to go to the managers of the Plymouth and West for a position in that organization, which was then playing at Hooley's. The manager in turn referred him to Mr. West, who had a liking to the boy and engaged him. This was the same day that Billy West married Fay Templeton, and left him the morning following the marriage, the morning which has never been explained. Young Denning remained with the organization for five years as a song and dance artist. He grew tired of the black-faced act and entered the legitimate field.

Billy is considered to be the best "comic" of the times in New York. He also claims to be a good, and can serve up any dish that anyone cares to order. He quite often rolls up his sleeves and prepares a special meal at "The Lamb."

Since Billy gave up the act of singing and dancing he has played leading parts in "Brewster's Millions" and "The Gentleman from Mississippi," and this year he is appearing as Nat Danvers in "The Fortune Hunter," which comes to the Opera House Feb. 12 for three days.

The advance sale of seats for the engagement here at the Opera House, next week is now on at the box office and indications point to a large attendance for this engagement.

MME. NAZIMOVA

One of the important theatrical events of the present season will be for one night only of the talented and here immediately following her forthright appearance here at the Opera House (press Mme. Nazimova, who will be seen coming Boston engagement).

KEITH'S LOWELL THEATRE

A program of more merit is the offering at Keith's this week and rarely does a first night audience witness so spontaneously over a new bill as did that of last evening. Encouraged and recalls followed each act. Heading the bill is dainty Theo and her Dandies in one of the best acts in vaudeville. Theo opens up with her celebrated "Heaven act," gracefully soaring over the heads of the audience, propelled by invisible power. Standing at this seat or that, rising or falling gently and gracefully as though in the open, she'll invite you to ride with her, provided you are not built on the plan of Manager Stevens, and during the week many children will enjoy a ride with her. At the conclusion of her balloon act, Theo and her Dandies participate in a beautiful singing and dancing act, in charming settings.

Alfred, the vaudeville violinist, was perhaps the highlight of the bill and he was recalled several times. He is only 19 years of age but he is a prodigy on the violin. One doesn't have to be a musician to appreciate the exquisite tone that he gets from his instrument and he throws his soul into his work. In the make-up of an Italian vagabond he plays everything from the classics to rag-time with imitation, etc., showing the possibilities of the violin.

Butler Harland, the elongated comedian and Alice Thornton appear in one of the best acts yet given at Keith's and entitled "A Question of Policy," representing the meeting of a glib insurance agent and a sprightly widow at a summer resort. The dialogue is very witty and humor and the verbal fun flies so fast that one must keep awake to get it all. Their songs, particularly that of the lovers of the theatre followed by the married couple at the show, were immense and they were called back several times.

Willard and Lend in "The Battle of Iwo Jima" were a scream. Their offering tells of a future German war correspondent who wanders too near the enemy's lines and is captured. Here are three characters and a wonderful horse in the melodrama and the horse like the characters is a scream, himself.

Mark Hart and Willis Denning present a pretty sketch, entitled "After Twenty Years." Hart, an old Irish father, sends Denning, his boy, out to get a package of tobacco and the boy never returns until 20 years after when they meet, become acquainted and go to a "good saloon" to celebrate the return of the prodigal.

Rossini and Doretto, the jolly tars, are two of the best automatic comedians in the country and they do marvelous break-neck stunts with chairs, tables and other articles of furniture. Josh Dale, the Alabama Kid, introduces original songs and parodies. Frank and Trise Rice are talking head-bangers and bats. Then there are the motion picture brand new. The bill is strong and evenly balanced throughout and some of the acts notably those of Theo and Alfred, are certainly different from anything ever seen in this city.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC

Today is "Professional Day" at the Academy and is not to be confounded with amateur day, for excellent acts go to make up a program that would be difficult indeed to surpass. The "Tricentennial Days," an aggregation of local claps with stage aspirations have been releasing for some time a sketch called "In a Bathhouse" and advance reports have it that the dancing and comedy work of the boys is equal, if not superior to many of the vaudeville turns now playing the circuits. Among these fading prominent parts are Dan Gray, Jess Clark, Ed. Con. "Duke" Rogers, Frank Lescenti, Jack Cavanauick and Charlie Rogers. If conscientious, rehearsing will bring success these boys are entitled to it in a large measure. Further from this, Charlie Sturtevant, a local boy, who has had considerable stage experience, has an act called "The Lone Minstrel," and no doubt he will meet with the success due him. Eddie Hatfield and her stock company are making a success with Fats Noddy and the company grows more popular with each performance. Margaret McDermott's new song routine, where she introduces the choruses of all the popular songs, has the audience with her, not with instant favor. Jack Manchester, a local favorite is making his vaudeville debut and met with many warm calls. Gordon & Stafford, one of whom imitates the Great, are a scream. A specially selected picture show completes a big bill.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Shortly after the opening of the performance at the Merrimack Square theatre last night, standing room was at a premium. The bill is one of the best ever produced at this theatre.

The production given by "Our Stage company" alone is worth the price of admission. It is entitled "The Trials of Jerry Owen," and he it said that it is all to the good. It is a two-act affair from the pen of Dion Boucicault.

The cast is as follows:

Myra McCappon, a preacher.

Kendall Weston and Constance Jackson.

Barbara Cogan of Toke Cogan.

Chas. Stevens.

Another very pleasing number is

John J. Quinn

Warren Price

Joseph Guthrie

W. Connor

Constance Jackson

Barbara Cogan

Chas. Stevens

that presented by J. A. Murphy and Miss Eloise Willard, who manufacture fun as they go on. Their sketch lasts about 20 minutes and it is a case of laughing from certain rise to certain fall.

Miss Marie Laurens, late prima donna with Jas. R. Waite's opera company, possesses a rich soprano voice and she handles it to advantage. She is a renowned singer and an accomplished comedienne.

Crawford and Montrose, known as "Those Irish Singers and Dancers," give a pleasing act that went well yesterday and will go well for the rest of the week.

As an added attraction, given in connection with the motion pictures, there is a fine series of views of the Emerald Isle, entitled "Seeing Ireland in a Flashing Car." Short sketches, explaining the location of the views and any interesting facts concerning them, make them all the more enjoyable. The photographs for the first three days are unusually good, and include "The Transformation of Michael," a picture portrayal quite in keeping with the entire "Irish Week" program. The regular views, provided by Underwood & Underwood, are also most enjoyable.

Through special arrangement, Miss Salez, oculist and ophthalmologist, will remain at this theatre during the week and will give private interviews to all patrons desiring them. Miss Salez has wonderful power of reading character. Visit her. Friday night Andrew Mackie's favorite song, "The Praying Irish Rose," will be played. Shamrocks are distributed at the door at all performances.

THEATRE VOYONS

Thursday, Friday and Saturday the Theatre Voyons will present for the first time in Lowell authentic motion pictures of William, Cardinal O'Connell and his reception in Boston. These pictures were taken with the full permission of the cardinal and the reception committee and several special portions of importance were secured by reason of this theatre's interviews to all patrons desiring them. The Cardinal's entrance, the harbor, the transfer to the reception committee at Long Wharf, the parade on State street, on Tremont street and at the cardinal's residence are well shown. His audience consented to pose especially for the Pathé Camera, both on the day of his return and on the following day, so several excellent pictures appear. Then, too, a most beautiful picture of the decorated Mission church in Roxbury, both interior and exterior, is attached. Today's show is a strong one with several fine features and a most pleasing musical program.

AFTER FORTY YEARS

Case Pending in Supreme Court

Won by Plaintiff

BOSTON, Feb. 6.—A case which has been pending in the supreme judicial court of Suffolk county for 40 years was decided today and judgment was entered for the plaintiff in the sum of $54,203, of which $36,778.83 represents interest at the rate of six per cent. from 1873. The suit was brought by J. T. Moore against Daniel G. Rawson & Co., formerly wholesale boot and shoe dealers in Boston and was for the settlement of a partnership account. For 27 years no substantial progress was made in the proceedings, as three masters appointed by the supreme court died before making a report.

Every person originally connected with the case, including judges and lawyers, is in their grave, the last survivor, Mr. Moore, the plaintiff, having died on July 6 of last year. The bookkeeper of the firm died in 1876 and Mr. Rawson, the only other person familiar with the books, was taken insane in 1889 and died in 1893. The work of the master was made more difficult because the books had been damaged almost to the point of destruction in the great Boston fire of 1872 and only by chemical treatment were the fragments remaining partly legible.

TO BORROW $500,000

Senate Suspends Rules to Pass Lawrence Loan Measure

BOSTON, Mass., Feb. 6.—All rules were suspended in the senate yesterday, and the bill to permit Lawrence to borrow $500,000 outside the debt limit was given its general readings, on motion of Senator Bailey, of that city, and sent to the House for enactment.

Day in the House
Without division or debate the House yesterday adopted, in concurrence, the senate order extending the time of the joint committee on rules on the governor's message relative to the Lawrence strike and on the Barlow order providing for an investigation of conditions in Lawrence.

Hearings and Reports
The recommendation of the committee on fisheries and game for further regulation of the lobster fisheries brought out a strenuous opposition before the committee on fisheries and game yesterday, the lobstermen protesting against the suggestion that the law be enforced by regulating the size of the entrance to the pots, and against the proposition that lobster must be sold only in the shell. James A. Mayhew of Martha's Vineyard and Capt. David B. Bosworth of Gosnold opposed the bill. The hearing was closed.

Legislation to prohibit the sale of cigarettes with pictures was discussed before the committee on public health, Miss Elizabeth R. White, petitioner, asking the committee to report the bill in the interest of the public health and public morals. Dr. Senator Allan G. Britton opposed the bill.

Representative John C. Sanborn of Lawrence was heard in favor of his resolve authorizing the governor to appoint a commission of three persons to investigate the housing conditions of factory cities and towns and congested localities. W. H. Sperry of Fall River favored the resolve, as did Henry Stebbins and Mrs. Charlotte Smith. There was no opposition.

Before the committee on agriculture Sec. J. Lewis Ellsworth spoke in favor of the appropriation of $3000 to be expended by the state board of agriculture in an exhibit of the agriculture and agricultural products of Massachusetts at the American Land and Irrigation Exposition in New York, November, 1912.

On the bill to provide for the labeling of containers of condensed and evaporated milk with the formula showing the exact amount of water added, Mr. Harlow of the Dairy Bureau, Charles Gardner of the State Grange, Mr. Bentley, representing the dealers and condensors, opposed the bill as inflicting an unnecessary hardship.

A bill for the state to take over the Mattapan Tuberculosis Hospital was introduced by Representative John D. Corners of Boston yesterday, but was opposed by Edward P. McSweeney.

The committee on legal affairs heard Representative Charles A. Ostrum and E. Gerry Brown, supervisor of small loans on Mr. Ostrum's bill, which is designed to correct an evil that now exists by reason of borrowers of poor credit getting endorsements by persons of good credit by paying them 15 per cent, and then the lender loaning the money on such endorsement.

The committee on cities voted to report on the following bills:
On house bill 102, to repeat chapter 97, acts of 1878, relative to the owners of the poor of the city of Springfield, leave to withdraw.
That cities and towns (H. 419) may establish boards of recreation, reference to next general court.
On house bill 103, to amend the charter of Lynn (S. 94), that the members of the municipal council shall receive no other compensation, gift or reward, other than the salaries they receive as members of said council, reference to the next general court.

INJUNCTION ISSUED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Judge Gray in the United States court of the third circuit has issued an injunction enjoining the defendants in the government's anti-trust suit against the United States Steel Co. from destroying books and papers desired by the government.

THE SUN'S DAILY PICTURE PUZZLE

QUITE PROBABLY.

If that bloke who wrote of the beautiful snow had first shovelled off about three tons or so, Do you know I don't think that with rhyme he'd been fustled, More likely he'd look it all out in tall cussin'. Find that poet.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE.
Upper left corner down, nose at left shoulder.

A LITTLE NONSENSE

SHE WAS WISE.
Mrs. Grewler—It takes a lot of patience to get through this world.
Mr. Grewler—How do you know—you don't have to work?
Mrs. Grewler—True, but I have to listen to grumble about the way you have to work.

VALUABLE STUFFING.
Custodian (of natural history museum)—This collection of stuffed animals is valued at many thousands of dollars.
Visitor—My! What are they stuffed with?

WIS. BANQUET COMMITTEE.
First Guest—There are eight wine glasses at each plate, but the menu doesn't mention a word about wine.
Second Guest—That's the menu you take home to your wife.

BEING UP TO DATE.
"A little bird told me."
"Don't say that; say that you got it by wireless."

UNKIND.
"A fellow threatened today to knock my brains out."
"And why didn't he do it—didn't have them with you?"

HOW UNKIND!
"When says he's a heap sight better than the people who talk about him."
"Shouldn't be surprised. What were you going to say about him?"

SAVINGS BANKS

INTERESTING TALK ON THEIR WORKINGS BY C. W. WHIDDEN

The history and workings of savings banks were outlined in a very interesting manner by Mr. Charles W. Whidden, president of the Central Savings Bank at the meeting of the Get Together club.

During the course of his address he spoke in part as follows:

"The first savings bank was started by Rev. Henry Duncan in Bathwell, Scotland, in 1810, in his own parish. The first in the United States was started in Philadelphia in November, 1816.

"Then in Boston December, 1816, the savings bank was organized which has the distinction of being the first savings bank in the world to be incorporated and regulated by law. In its petition for a charter appears this sentence: 'He is the most efficacious benefactor of the poor who encourages them in habits of industry, sobriety and frugality.' This bank has now on deposit over $15,000,000, with 10,112 depositors.

"The first savings bank in Lowell was the Lowell Institution for Savings, incorporated Feb. 23, 1820. The assets of Lowell savings banks amount to over $15,000,000. Lowell banks gained for last year, October 31, 1910 to October 31, 1911, on deposit, $1,250,328.99; in number of accounts, 3544.

"In Massachusetts there is a total of 192 banks, with assets of $86,521,837.84, a gain during the year of $1,600,046.80. Lowell stands third in the cities of this Commonwealth in the assets of its savings banks."

The speaker at the next Get Together club meeting next Friday evening at 8.30 will be Mr. J. J. Rogers on "Travels in Russia."

MARCHING ORDERS FOR U.S. ARMY

TO MEXICAN BORDER COURT REFUSES MUNICIPAL COUNCIL

Mobile Forces of U. S. Army Receive Marching Orders To Grant Writ for the Release of the Strike Leaders Met This Afternoon and Struggled With Department Bills

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—A 60-hour development in Mexico have put the mobile forces of the United States army on marching orders and field equipment. With renewed disturbances across the border and the possibility that the state department might call on the war department to protect lives and property of Americans along the line, the plans of the general staff for a minute's action in such an event were spread out at headquarters today and renewed instructions to await marching orders were flashed to army commanders at points from which troops can be quickly mobilized.

It was made plain that the government does not intend to send more troops to the border unless the situation absolutely demands it.

Meanwhile several thousand soldiers rest on their arms.

INFANTRY IN READINESS

SPOKANE, Wash., Feb. 6.—Eight companies of the 25th infantry stationed at Fort George Wright received notice today to hold themselves in readiness for instant service on the Mexican border.

TO THE MEXICAN BORDER

PENSACOLA, Fla., Feb. 6.—For the second time within 12 months, two companies of the coast artillery stationed at Fort Barrancas received orders today to leave for the Mexican border in Texas. Four other companies stationed here are being recruited to the full war strength in anticipation of possible orders to move on short notice.

WHOLE STATE IN REVOLT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The whole state of Chihuahua is now reported to be in revolt against the Madero government.

The state assembly is expected to meet today.

It is expected that a declaration of independence will be issued. Local representatives of the National government are said to be without support and afraid to appeal to the city of Mexico for help, fearing that any attempt on the part of the national government to send loyal troops into Chihuahua to enforce the decrees of the Madero government would precipitate bloodshed. As the state of Chihuahua borders on Texas its separation from Mexico would be a matter of deep concern to the United States. Officials here are watching developments with great interest. So complete are the military preparations that it is believed that nothing has to be done but to send a message to the different army quarters in the country to insure the prompt assembly of a sufficient number of troops on the border to prepare the United States for any emergency that might arise there.

ORDERS FOR COAST ARTILLERY

PORTLAND, Me., Feb. 6.—Seven companies of the coast artillery stationed at Fort William and McKinley received orders today to be ready to leave at once for the Mexican border.

NEUTRALITY LAWS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Frankly admitting the gravity of the situation, officials here are insistent that nothing more is contemplated at this date than to make the border patrol strong enough for all legitimate purposes.

There is no intention to send a single soldier across the line. The neutrality laws will be enforced to the letter.

HER GOLD TEETH

GIRL IDENTIFIED BY THEM WAS ARRESTED

BOSTON, Feb. 6.—Louise Woodson, colored, who is wanted in New York on a charge of larceny of jewelry valued at $2500, was identified in the women's session of the municipal court yesterday by means of a certain gold tooth, which her former employer, Mrs. Ida Briggs of New York, described. Mrs. Briggs told the court that she could be positive of the woman's identity if she could see her teeth, and the defendant was directed to open her mouth. There was the tooth, exactly as Mrs. Briggs described it.

THAT BOMB MYSTERY

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—The police are searching for a man whose name they have just learned who departed from the flat of Mrs. Helen Taylor just before she received the bomb that exploded in her hands and killed her on Saturday evening. Examination of the typewritten letter which covered the bomb, it was said today, showed that it was not made by any of the typewriters in the United States Motor Co., where Charles M. Dickinson, who was with Mrs. Taylor when the bomb exploded, and was subsequently arrested, was employed. A chemist of the motor company informed the police that Dickinson had no knowledge of chemistry and rarely visited the laboratory.

FUNERALS

DIXON.—The funeral of Hazel Metcalf Dixon took place this morning at 10:30 o'clock from the home of her parents, Alfred T. and Ida May Dixon, 58 Middle street, Collinsville. It was largely attended by relatives and friends. The body was sent on the 11:55 train to Littleton, Mass., where interment will take place in Western cemetery, in charge of Undertaker Peter H. Savage.

PASSENGERS INJURED

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 6.—An open switch is blamed for the crash between the Pullman passenger train and a freight here today. One hundred passengers were hurt by flying glass from the window panes of the coaches.

TRIAL OF BATHTUB TRUST

DETROIT, Feb. 6.—With the trial of the government's criminal cases against the so-called bathtub trust, scheduled to begin here today before United States District Judge Indian, 25 cases and 25 individuals were expected to appear as defendants. The case is docketed as "United States vs. Standard Sanitary Manufacturing company and other corporations and Theodore A. Adams and other individuals." Theodore Adams being president of the Standard Sanitary Manufacturing company which has factories in Allentown and New Brighton, Pa., and Louisville, Ky.

RESTING COMFORTABLY

Mrs. Lena King, who was shot and seriously injured by her husband, Joseph King, at her sister's home, 275 Walker street, Sunday afternoon, according to information received from the Lowell hospital, is resting comfortably.

COURT REFUSES TO GRANT WRIT FOR THE RELEASE OF THE STRIKE LEADERS

BOSTON, Feb. 6.—In the supreme court today Judge Braley refused to grant a writ of habeas corpus for the release on bail of Joseph Ettor and Arturo Giovannitti, arrested in Lawrence last week charged with being accessories to the murder of Miss Annie Lopizzo.

Judge Braley said that as a matter of policy no one had ever been admitted to bail pending an examination or before an indictment had been found in a murder case.

The proceedings lasted about half an hour and the court-room was crowded to its capacity.

Ettor comes up for a continued hearing in the Lawrence police court on next Friday. At the present time he is being confined, with his lieutenant, in the Essex county jail.

LATEST FEATURES OF STRIKE

Mills opened at 7.30 this morning. Increased number of operatives reported for work. Italians taking their departure. One thousand have gone since strike started. Weavers and others formulate demands. Strikers held several meetings today. Halls where they met have been condemned.

IMPENDING CLASH BETWEEN INDUSTRIAL WORKERS AND A. F. OF L.

LAWRENCE, Feb. 6.—The attention of the great body of textile strikers was turned today from the mills and mills to the possibility of an impending clash between two large labor organizations, the Industrial Workers of the World and the American Federation of Labor. The Industrial Workers officials first organized the textile operatives of this city and have been conducting the strike. The American Federation, through the local Central labor union, stepped into the situation a few days ago in an attempt to bring about a settlement of the difficulties.

While the Central Labor union was holding meetings of the more skillful class of operatives in attempts to organize the workers, the I. W. W. representatives were deriding the steps taken by the former organization.

TO INVESTIGATE STRIKE

After stoutly refusing to countenance an investigation of the Lawrence strike, the senate today reconsidered its action and passed an order for a joint executive committee of eight to act as a board of conciliation and arbitration. The committee will be made up of three members of the senate and five of the house.

The house order passed that branch last Wednesday but Speaker Cushing delayed the appointment of a committee until the senate should take final action on the matter.

It is expected that the committee will be appointed at once and will commence hearings in Lawrence tomorrow or Thursday.

MITCHELL IS OPTIMISTIC

PORTLAND, Me., Feb. 6. John Mitchell, the labor leader, who was in this city today, expects a speedy settlement of the textile workers strike at Lawrence. He said:

"I look for a speedy and sane settlement of the Lawrence strike of textile workers now going on. Last night I received a telegram from Washington saying that it would be only a matter of days or a few weeks at most before the trouble will be over and matters between employees and employers adjusted."

TEXTILE SCHOOL VISITED BY COMMITTEE FROM PAPER MFRS. ASSOCIATION

A committee from the International Paper Manufacturers and Jobbers' association came to this city today for the purpose of making a second tour of inspection of the Lowell Textile school in order to further the plan of the association in respect to the erection of a school of paper manufacturing in connection with the Textile school.

Under the charter of the Textile school, however, it would be impossible to conduct any business other than textile business in the buildings, but the committee felt that the students of the proposed school could study chemistry, mechanics and power in the textile school and that the association could erect a building in the vicinity where the other branches of the paper trade could be taught.

A short time ago the committee came to Lowell and inspected the Textile school, but in order to secure more information they decided to make a second visit.

They arrived in Lowell on the nine o'clock train from Boston and were met by Major Charles S. Proctor, of this city, who is secretary of the association. He escorted them to the Textile school where they met Principal James E. O'Donnell and Aldermen Lawrence Cummings and Andrew E. Barrott of the municipal council.

After being shown through the building by Principal James they spoke in the highest terms of the manner in which the school is being conducted and said they would submit a report to the association.

In the party were A. W. Burbank, of New York, president of the association; C. A. Crocker, of Holyoke; Chester W. Lyman, of New York; Herbert W. Mason, of Boston; R. F. McElwain, of Holyoke; Arthur T. Sanford, of the Locks & Canals Corp., of

SLEIGH SMASHED

In Wild Runaway in Andover Street

A horse attached to a light sleigh, hired by a Belvidere man, and the property of Penney's stable, got frightened in some manner while standing in Andover street, shortly after noon today and ran with great speed down the thoroughfare. Upon reaching Perry street the animal collided with a sleigh and left the sleigh behind. He continued on his wild dash down Church street and turned into Central street. It was stopped by the latter street and taken to Haggerty's stable in Goddard street. The owner later in the afternoon called and took the animal to his stable. The owner later in the afternoon called and took the animal to his stable. The sleigh was badly smashed, but no other damage was reported.

AMBASSADOR TO FRANCE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Announcement regarding the prospective appointment of former Governor Herrick of Ohio to be ambassador to France, succeeding Robert Bacon, is expected to be made at the White House as soon as certain diplomatic formalities have been fulfilled. It is understood that the state department has been given to understand informally that Mr. Herrick is acceptable to the French government.

15 YEARS FITTING GLASSES ACCURATELY

The municipal council met this afternoon for the purpose of examining the bills of the different departments. City Auditor Charles A. Paige was also present to assist the members of the council.

The meeting was called to order shortly after two o'clock, all members being present.

Alderman Cummings spoke of the condition of the moth appropriation. Under the law the person in charge of moth extermination may expend one-sixth of the appropriation of the previous year up to March 15. Alderman Cummings said that the limit of expenditure had been almost reached and that he intended to stop work.

Mayer O'Donnell said that an appropriation for that work would be made Thursday or Friday.

Alderman Barrott, during the perusal of the various bills, said that he had learned more of the city's business while acting as a member of the committee on accounts last year than he ever knew before. He referred to the seemingly humorous bills that he had run across and said that one of the bills he ran across last year was one that called for 12 dozen noiseless erasers. "I suppose that they were wanted so the children would not wake up," said the alderman.

Mayer O'Donnell called attention to the fact that he had a bill charged up against his department, which he was in doubt as to whether he should pay. The bill was from James H. Sparks against the city, dated March 20, 1911, for $25.47 for damages to a back used by the legislative committee on the new charter. It was agreed that the bill would have to be paid.

This honor also referred to the fact that the charter stipulated that a member of the council should not exceed his appropriation under penalty of a heavy fine.

He said his reason for speaking about the matter was that in the event of a large bill from last year's government being presented against his department it might make him overrun his appropriation. It was ascertained, however, that the amended charter referred to a commissioner who willfully and conscientiously overran his appropriation.

Alderman Cummings asked how many free telephones the city had. He was informed that there are 52 free phones, the city being entitled to one for every 2000 of population.

A relic of the government of last year came in the shape of a bill against the city messenger's department for a number of "quarters" of chicken pie, pieces chicken sandwiches, ice cream, frozen pudding, etc. It was explained that the former city messenger had contracted the bill for the employees of the department who had to work the day before inauguration day.

FIRE IN INSTITUTE

STUDENTS WILL GO HOME WHILE REPAIRS ARE BEING MADE

HOULTON, Me., Feb. 6.—A threatening fire broke out today from some unknown cause in the basement of the dormitory connected with Tucker Classical Institute, a Baptist institution, and worked through an airshaft to the cupola and bellry. It was placed under control after damage estimated at $5000, mostly by water, had been caused. The one hundred occupants of the building removed nearly all their personal effects, though in a badly damaged condition. Most of the students will return to their homes until repairs are made.

Michael Lee, the business agent of the local carpenters' union, who is also a member of the executive committee, will be a speaker at the meeting of the Haverhill union in the latter city tonight. On Wednesday evening Mr. Lee will attend the meeting of the Lawrence union.

At the present time there are many movements under the consideration of the local carpenters. The latter anticipate much building this spring and are anxiously awaiting the arrival of good weather. The local contractors have a letter from the carpenters of the city now under consideration. It is expected that the contractors will hold a meeting in the near future at which action on the letter will be taken.

BOARD OF HEALTH

DR. PIERRE BRUNELLE IS SLATED FOR CHAIRMAN

A meeting of the board of health for the purpose of organization will be held late this afternoon and it is understood that Dr. Pierre Brunelle, Jr., is slated for chairman of the board.

LICENSE BOARD

WILL HOLD REGULAR MEETING TONIGHT

The members of the license commission will hold their regular meeting tonight at the regular time. Routine business will be transacted and the commission will also act on a complaint charging a pool room proprietor with violating his license regulations by admitting minors in his pool room. The complaint was brought about by the police.

AT STATE ARMORY
Co. C Defeated Co. M
in Basketball

In the inter-company games at the state armory a mix-up developed last night and the only contest to be pulled off was the basketball game between Co. C and Co. M. The shooting match saw only the Co. C men present and in the bowling match scheduled for the Crescent alleys the Company M men were the only ones to put in an appearance. The M men bowled their regulation three strings and claim four points in the league standing. The result of the bowling was as follows:

Company M	1	2	3	Totals
Mangan	56	81	241
Rittledge	111	86	282
Rhodes	87	111	256
Tobin	123	82	268
McLaren	83	72	252
Totals	445	432	1377

BASKETBALL
In the basketball game Company C won by the score of 21 to 9. The game was very exciting and many good plays were made by both teams. The first half ended with the score 13 to 7 in favor of the C men. In the second half the C team increased its lead, practically walking away from their opponents. The summary:

FAIRMOUNTS WON
Took Three Points From
N. E. T. & T. Quintet

The Fairmounts and the N. E. T. & T. Co. team met on the alleys last night and the former quintet took three points. In the first string the Fairmounts rolled 503, taking the point by just thirty pins. Both teams fell down in the second string and the "Hells boys" took the point. The Fairmounts came back in the last string and took it by 20 pins, and with the total received three points. The feature of the match was the rolling of Coleman of the winners. He was the only man to get by the 300 mark, his total being 312.

A team from Lowell will journey to Nashua and play a friendly game with McQueen's bowlers Wednesday. The Lowell team will consist of Martel, Coleman, Dunham, T. Kelley and J. E. Donohue.

Two teams are registered for the new minor league to be formed at the Crescent alleys.

ANNUAL MEETING

Directors of Lowell Hosiery Elects Officers

The annual meeting of the board of directors of the Lowell Hosiery was held yesterday and officers were chosen for the ensuing year.

Dr. James H. Sparks was elected treasurer to succeed Earl A. Thibault. The board of directors will remain the same as last year. The following officers were chosen: President, A. C. Pollock; vice president, Frank L. Chapman; and clerk, Walter H. Howe. The remaining members of the board are: Amasa Pratt, A. C. Russell, A. D. Carter, George L. Hutton and E. P. Don-

"SHINTOAST DOPE"
A Little More Hot Stuff
While Waiting

"Paddy" Baumann, former second baseman of the Whalers, who was somewhat of a favorite with New England fans on account of his fine playing, is on going on the southern trip in the spring with the Tigers. He is regarded as one of the most promising ball tossers of Hughey Jennings' recruits gathered during the season of 1911.

"Paddy" is not trying to follow the footsteps of Ty Cobb. In a letter written before the "Georgia Dope" made the announcement that he did not care to take the trip and had been excused from duty by President Navin, he said the news. And it is not fear of making a poor showing on the trip that makes "Paddy" want to stick around his home, while his fellow Tigers delight the fans of the South with their so-called big league exhibitions.

Baumann is afraid of malaria. In the New England league, where he played as a Whaler last summer, the Lowell club had two men, Wright and Fluharty, who had been members of a malaria in the south and both had caught the malaria bug and had not recovered from the attack. And when Old Sol blazed forth on the hot days they were practically useless and once one of these players was stricken on the field while Paddy was playing against them, he has not forgotten the incident and this is the main reason for not wanting to work out in the south.

But the fear of malaria is not the only cause of Paddy's hesitancy about taking the trip. Anyone who has met Baumann realizes that he is a straight-forward chap with good ideas, and, once he makes up his mind, it is hard to swerve him from his determination. He thinks it is useless for anyone to talk over a month to be in the heat of condition and feels that every day over four weeks spent in training is wasted time—Lynn Item.

As long as Mike Donlin maintains the standard in batting he made last season he is assured a permanent job with the Boston Nationals.

Marty O'Toole, like Mathewson, the late Eddie Joss and others, has turned author. He is to write baseball stories for the St. Paul Dispatch.

Although the record of Walter Johnson has been disputed, he is still claimed to be a real strike-out king. He fanned out 257 men in 34 games in 1911.

Charles A. Moore, an infielder, procured from the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast league, sent in his signed contract to the Chicago National league club.

There are only three players in the American league that have been there since 1901. These men are Leube, Sullivan and Plank, and all three are good ones at the present time.

It will not be long before 12 clubs will be scattered over eight states between the Mason and Dixon line. There will be over 100 players of the major and class AA minor leagues that will invade Dixie.

Victor Saler, the young first baseman of the Chicago National league baseball club, narrowly escaped serious injury the other day, when a street car came into collision with his automobile. Saler sustained only a shaking up.

Billy Kelley, formerly St. Paul catcher, but now with the Pirates, is anxious for the ball season to open—not so much to try himself out, but to help his battery partner, Marty O'Toole.

make good. He says Marty's softball will prove interesting this coming season.

Cy Young is writing his autobiography. For fear that he might have forgotten the game, let some of his friends recall to his memory the day he blazed the Athletics with a black-man reaching first base. Members are treacherous, and that should be in the book.

President Ward received a long letter from Pres. Horace Egan of the Philadelphia club, who wrote that he had several fine young players whom he would like to turn over to the Boston club, and that he will meet Mr. Ward at the meeting in New York, Feb. 15th.

The following players have now signed with the Boston Nationals: Tenney, Kling, Brady, Miller, Conroy, Brown, McHugh, Taylor, Puffer, Kirk, Bridwell and Monahan. President Ward said that five other players have agreed to his terms, and he looks for their signed contracts any day.

Jimmy Casey, famous third baseman, who played with the majority of the big leagues in the past 25 years, has given up the game for good. He has recently been appointed postmaster at Detroit, and his services for Uncle Sam, combined with his drug business, will keep the doctor busy.

The statement that Grever Alexander will be the highest salaried second-year pitcher in major league history is not believed by a member of the Pittsburgh team. This player is willing to swear that Marty O'Toole's first season contract will show more money than Alexander's second.

Another about Ty. Somebody asked Ty Cobb the other day what pitcher kept him closest to the first sack. He promptly replied, "Warner of the New York Americans." He also admitted that Knapp of the Naps and Ed Walsh of the Sox were other leavers upon which it was difficult to make much of a lead.

Many followers of the game expect to see the Phillies make a fine showing this year. Doin is certainly well fortified with twirling material. They are Alexander, Moore, Crumbers, Stahlz, Curtiz, Stanton, Rasmussen, Katz, Masters, Hall, Ward, Scanlon, Brennan, Hunt and Oldham. The latter three are southpaws.

Pres. Charles W. Murphy of the Chicago National league club, following up the suggestion of Barney Dreyfuss of the Pittsburgh club, has proposed a clause be put in ball players' contracts, said at Chicago Thursday night, that he would like to see the big leagues prevented from engaging in the saloon business. He said he proposes introducing a rule at the next National league meeting which will prohibit ball players from patronizing or holding interests in saloons or establishments of a like nature.

It has been decided to put the Indian sign only on the sweaters of the Boston players, so they have a chance yet to elude, for no player wears his sweater in action. The uniforms have been selected and the word "Boston" will appear as usual across the shirt fronts.

President Ward has an idea for a new cup. It is a cross between a golf cup and a drinking cup. He thinks the present cup is too bad. It makes a big fellow look like a baby.

AT Y. M. C. A.

LOCAL TEAM PLAYS WM. READ
FIVE SATURDAY EVENING

The Lowell Y. M. C. A. basketball team will meet the William Read Five of Boston at the local expansion on Hard street, next Saturday evening. The latter team is considered one of the best in the state and as the local quintet is out to capture the state championship a clever game is expected. Between the series of the big game the strong contestants of this city will play the Tigers of Chelmsford. This contest is expected to be a good one as both teams are putting up a fast article of play at the present time. The first game will be called at 7 o'clock and a large attendance is expected.

The members of the committee in charge of the Bunting Brothers' event to be given at the local Y. M. C. A. during the month of March are making great preparations for the affair. It is expected that the first program will be completed in a short time and that it will be one of the best performers ever given by the clever troupe.

MORIARTY AND QULL
In Main Bout at Lowell
Social Club

The program arranged for this week's meeting of the Lowell Social and Athletic club is one of the best that Matchmaker Gardner has secured this season. Mr. Gardner in signing these men for the meeting had them make a deposit. This system will be maintained during the remainder of the season. For the main bout of 12 rounds Jimmy Moriarty of Lowell will appear against Tommy Qull of Brockton. Moriarty is a clever performer and in securing him the management has complied with the wishes of many of the members. Since the last showing at the local club Jimmy has engaged in several important matches and has met with great success. He started yesterday to train for Friday night's match and promises to be in the best of condition. The mention of Qull's name at last week's meeting was met with great applause which signifies that he is popular here. He is one of the best men in the business at his weight and has a long list of victories to his credit. The bout is sure to be a cracker-jack and undoubtedly all the members will be on hand. In the semi-final Young Buster of Pawtucket, a great favorite here, will tackle Kid Reardon of Brockton. Both are good men and should put up a good exhibition. The opening number will introduce Kid Brown of Lowell and Joe Hennessy of Newton. The meeting will be held as usual on Friday night and in Mathew hall.

President Ward received a long letter from Pres. Horace Egan of the Philadelphia club, who wrote that he had several fine young players whom he would like to turn over to the Boston club, and that he will meet Mr. Ward at the meeting in New York, Feb. 15th.

FOOTBALL RULES

Walter Camp in Favor of Changes Made

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 6.—Walter Camp, athletic adviser of Yale, stated last night that he thought the changes in the rules made by the football rules committee, the one move that could be taken to make the rules of the game permanent. In speaking of the changes he said:

"The changes had to be very marked, in order that the offensive team be given a better chance. When the game is taken up again the play will be more brilliant. Under the new rules there are some excellent chances for great plays. The scoring will be easier and there will be more running. We have allowed the blocking of the ends going down under a kick. This is an important step. It allows the back field men making the catch to make some very pretty plays. The increase of the value of a touchdown from five to six points is another step in favor of the running game. The elimination of the 20-yard rule, is, in my mind, a splendid move toward the general simplification of the game. The changes were necessarily marked, but they helped in the general simplification of the game. We have been hoping each year that the rules from the time they were changed would be permanent. With the present changes the game will bring out more running and is generally simplified."

VICIOUS ASSAULT

On Two Men Going to Work at the Rendering Works This Morning

Two men who wished to go to work at the Lowell Rendering Co. in South Lowell were brutally assaulted this morning by three of the strikers who were doing picket work around the premises. A squad of eight local police headed by Sgt. William Thomas was detailed on the premises, but no arrest was made.

According to the police the men assaulted are Andrew Moore and Thomas Brown, Mr. Moore, who is about 65 years old, and who has been an employee of the rendering company for over 20 years was going to his work shortly after six o'clock this morning, when he was approached by three

Turk strikers, who without the least provocation threw him down and beat him badly. The old gentleman was badly bruised, being struck and kicked almost all about in a senseless condition.

Brown, who is younger, was also assaulted and badly bruised. These brutalities occurred some distance from the works.

There were about 15 strikers at an early hour this morning doing picket work near the plant of the company, but the presence of the local and Billerica police kept them in a quiet mood. They tried to induce the people not to go to work, but peace was maintained.

with a police officer made the statement that he could hold as long as the company. He said he was young and could hold out for a while.

The five men who were arrested Saturday morning charged with assault on two men employed at the rendering works will be arraigned in court Friday morning. The Lowell police will remain on duty in South Lowell until everything is settled, or at least until all signs of trouble have disappeared.

CITY HALL NEWS

Speculation Rife as to Slicing of Estimates

City hall was a scene of bustle and bustle today. The heads of the different departments turned their monthly bills over to the different commissioners and the latter were kept busy during the morning examining the different bills, which were further examined at the meeting of the council held this afternoon.

The principal topic of conversation in the municipal building today, however, was relative to what the municipal council will do in regard to the appropriations for the different departments.

Of course there will be considerable slicing and the knife will have to cleave deep in order to cut down expenses, but the question is "Where will the deepest cut come?" That is a question which is hard to answer, but it is expected that at the meeting to be held Thursday the matter will be discussed at considerable length and there will be something doing.

City Clerk Flynn is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. Letta Sumner of Winooski, Me., inquiring if he can assist her in locating her son who came to this city or vicinity several years ago. In the letter she states that her son came to Lowell and worked in the woods around here for some time. She says that he had some trouble about recently and she had placed the matter in the hands of a lawyer and that was the last that she heard of him. Inasmuch as the writer did not state the Christian name of the son it will be rather difficult to locate him, even though he be in this vicinity at the present time. City Clerk Flynn turned the letter over to the police.

Supt. A. K. Whitcomb of the relief department is busy engaged in adding the finishing touches to his annual report. The first part of the report is in the hands of the printer, and it is expected that the remainder will be turned over to the printer within a day or two.

A hearing on the petition for municipal ownership of the city of Lowell will be held before the committee on mercantile affairs at the state house in Boston tomorrow morning at ten o'clock. Mayor James F. O'Donnell and City Solicitor J. Joseph Hennessy and others will appear before the committee and speak in favor of the bill.

Rev. R. A. Whitcomb, pastor of the First Congregational church, has filed a protest with Mayor O'Donnell against the granting of a license to the Star theatre in Merriam street to conduct Sunday concerts. The theatre is in the building adjoining the church and on several previous occasions the Mayor has refused to grant a license to the theatre on Sundays. Mayor O'Donnell will give a hearing on the matter in his office tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Ordinary objection to licenses should be referred to the council chambers, but the mayor is the only person authorized to grant licenses to hold Sunday concerts.

The health of the people of the city is very good, according to a statement made by Agent Bates of the board of health to a representative of The Sun this morning. Naturally disease is prevalent but it is comparatively small for this time of the year. At the present time there are a number of cases of measles. The number of cases of measles have been reported but in many instances cases of that nature are not reported. During the month of January there were 37 cases and this month nine cases have been reported. Mr. Bates considers this very low.

Despite the fact that the winter season is on, many people contemplate building and making alterations in their buildings. So far this year the inspector of public buildings has issued 24 permits for the erection of new buildings and the making of alterations.

Purchasing Agent Fore awarded a contract for a carload of oats for the health department to Walter Wotton today. The bid was 69 cents per bushel. Morse & Peas were awarded the contract for bulbs for the park department. The bid was $131.77.

HOLY NAME SOCIETY

WILL HOLD SMOKE TALK AND ENTERTAINMENT

The members of the Holy Name society of St. Michael's church will hold a smoke talk and entertainment at Odd Fellows hall, Bridge street, Thursday night and owing to the increase in the membership and the enthusiasm which is being displayed no doubt there will be a large attendance. Rev. Francis J. Mullin, assistant pastor of St. Michael's church, assisted by a visiting committee, has made monster arrangements for the affair and those who attend will be well repaid.

The feature of the evening will be a lecture on the book "Pastor's Story," which will be delivered by Mr. William F. Thornton, chief transient commissioner of this city. Those who have heard Mr. Thornton before will not need a second invitation to the meeting.

Besides the lecture there will be a musical and literary entertainment carried out.

The members of the committee in charge of the affair are Messrs. John Haywood, John Conway, John McCann, Daniel McKenna, James Mullin and James Duddy.

MATRIMONIAL

A pretty wedding was celebrated this morning at Notre Dame de Lourdes church when Mr. Louis Letendre, a popular member of the Sacred Heart league of that parish, and Miss Laura Pomeroy, were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed at a nuptial mass celebrated at seven o'clock. Rev. Leon Lamotte, O. M. I., officiating. The league choir rendered beautiful music during the service. After the mass the party repaired to the home of the bridegroom's parents, 520 Middlesex street, where a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served. This afternoon an informal reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Woodbury street, where other reception to the relatives and friends will take place tonight.

CARD OF THANKS

The undersigned wish to express their sincere thanks to their relatives and friends for the kindness and sympathy extended in their late bereavement.

O. Bisset and Sons,
Minors, 11 E. A. M. tonight, 25.

ELOQUENT RESPONSE

By Cardinal O'Connell in Response to Eulogies at Banquet

At the banquet given here by more than 50 priests of his diocese at the Hotel Somerset, yesterday, Cardinal O'Connell, responding to words of eulogy, pointed out how the position of a bishop is a position of great responsibility and that he must be a man of prayer, of study, and of action.

At the time those words were spoken, the cardinal was seated at the head of a long table, and the eulogies were being read by the members of the clergy. The cardinal's response was a long and eloquent one, and it was well received by the audience.

Continuing he said, in part:

There are two goals in life toward which the work of a bishop naturally tends. It needs every day of his life to feel that whatever he does has the approval of the Holy See. His office as bishop of the diocese is a position of great responsibility and that he must be a man of prayer, of study, and of action.

For the bishop is not his own. He is the servant of the church, and he must be a man of prayer, of study, and of action. He must be a man of prayer, of study, and of action.

The cardinal's response was a long and eloquent one, and it was well received by the audience. He pointed out how the position of a bishop is a position of great responsibility and that he must be a man of prayer, of study, and of action.

GIRL OF TWENTY ENGAGED TO MAN NEARLY FOUR TIMES HER OWN AGE

MISS JEAN HILL

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Miss Jean Hill, a girl of twenty years, came to New York recently from Pittsfield, Mass., where she had been engaged to a man nearly four times her own age. The engagement was broken off, and she is now living at the Hotel Latham, 115 West 42d St.

MARY BAKER EDDY

BOSTON, Feb. 6.—In the supreme judicial court today, Herbert Parker, counsel for the son and adopted son of Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, announced that after diligent and constant conferences no agreement has been reached as to the form of a recollection of all the questions involved in the contest over the Eddy will for the consideration of the full bench. Mr. Parker informed Judge Bailey that former Senator Chandler had so far recovered from his recent illness as to be able to have his house in Washington but upon advice of his physician could not come to Boston. It might be possible within a few days to have an interview with Mr. Chandler in New York, and Mr. Parker felt hopeful that such a meeting would result in the removal of some of the objections now insisted upon by Mr. Chandler. Samuel J. Elder, for the Christian Science Society, contended that they were entitled to have the main question as to the disposition of the Massachusetts realty of Mrs. Eddy and its application to it presented to the full court at the March sitting.

ACTION AGAINST NEW YORK CENTRAL

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—As Justice E. S. Attorney Harry Guiler, for the government today brought three persons in the federal district court against the New York Central railroad for violation of the 36-hour law in relation to employees. The suits involve all officers and agents of the defendant corporation required to conduct, manage and maintain work continuously for more than 16 hours. The penalties involve $25,000, that is, $500 for each offense.

COUNTRY HOME DESTROYED

BARRE CENTER, Feb. 6.—Fire today destroyed the country home of Col. William A. Garrison, president of the National Shawmut bank of Boston. Only the caretakers were in the premises. The house was a large, rambling old-fashioned structure, to which a large billiard room had been added recently. It is believed that the loss will exceed $150,000.

DIED IN BROTHER'S ARMS

BOSTON, Feb. 6.—Rev. Charles Jeffrey, assistant pastor of Tremont temple and well known in Baptist circles, died in the arms of his brother, Frank Jeffrey, a deacon of the temple, at a sanatorium in Dorchester today. Rev. Mr. Jeffrey had been long and seriously ill of a complication of diseases for nearly six months. He was born in Litchfield, Mass., 60 years ago. For many years he was a merchant on Washington street, this city, and for 40 years was a member in the Tremont Sunday school. Thirteen years ago he became assistant pastor under Rev. Dr. Loring.

BIG GAME PRESERVE

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 6.—March 1, 1912, 75,000 acres on Vermilion Bay, Parish of Iberville, has been purchased by Mrs. Russell Sage of New York and is to be offered to the United States government as a game preserve, according to information received here.

DON'T LIKE THEIR BOSS

CHICAGO, Feb. 6.—Conductors and firemen of the Chicago Railways Co. at a mass meeting last night voted to submit an ultimatum to the company immediately to dismiss James Fitzgerald, the new superintendent, or face a walkout that will affect every line on the West and North Sides of the city. The ultimatum came from the East a few months ago and has instituted many changes which are objectionable to the employees.

TWO MEN INJURED

By Explosion of a Heavy Freight Engine

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 6.—By the explosion of a heavy freight engine on the New Haven & Hartford line, two men were injured. The engine, No. 10, was pulling a train of freight cars when it exploded at the junction of the New Haven & Hartford lines. The explosion was heard for miles around. The injured men are being treated at the local hospital.

AUDITOR'S FIGURES

Puts Lowell's Estimated Revenue $11,000 Less Than Last Year

Business acted upon by the city council yesterday and not reported in our early editions included the reading of the city auditor's figures by the mayor. The auditor said his estimated revenue for this year was $11,000 less than last year.

Chairman J. W. Farrington of the school board was then called before the council in reference to the estimates of the school board, and he said an appropriation of $120,000 is asked for the running expenses of the schools. He said there was an increase of $1500 for salaries and $500 for supplies, but this is due to the fact that this is the industrial school's second year and another teacher will be added, thus requiring more teachers. The estimates for the industrial school are $26,000, said Mr. Farrington, but at the end of the year the state will reimburse the city half of this amount. He also stated a considerable sum will be required for four additional rooms in the Bartlett and Greenhouse schools. This statement brought forth considerable discussion on the school board, which he explained was completed shortly after the new Bartlett school was completed.

At this point the mayor told Mr. Brown that he understood to have laid out the most men, which Mr. Brown denied. Mr. Barrett referring to Mr. Brown's statement that he (Barrett) had fired 35 men, said it was an untruth, and he asked Mr. Brown as a gentleman to take back what he said. "I'll take back nothing," said Mr. Brown. Then Mr. Barrett accused him of having discharged some men and also of having laid off a number of them, which allegations were denied by Mr. Brown, who in turn said he had off temporary men in order to give work to some of the men who were fired by Mr. Barrett.

The meeting was then adjourned till Thursday afternoon.

A PAGE OF FUN

THE MODERN MAN.

Man: "And now, Jack, you must go into the library and ask papa's consent."
 Jack: "What? No, nothing of the sort. Yellow whiskered gink! Not as your life expectancy. Nix on papa. If he's got any finger in this deal he can come to me, too."

Nothing Doing.

At the village of the Jeffersons I hired a man to drive me by train across to Sebok, and on the way I asked:
 "Well, are there any Presidential candidates in this part of Iowa?"
 "You mean fellows to go to the White House?" he queried.
 "Yes."
 "I haven't heard of any."
 "I surely thought there'd be one or two."
 The man seemed to do a heap of thinking until he had put me down at a farmhouse, and had very little to say. Three hours later his reappearance to ask:
 "About those Presidential candidates, stranger?"

 "What?"
 "I think I've found one. It's old Bill Hickocks. What is there in it?"
 "Why the honor?"
 "No good," he said as he shook his head. "Bill has a bad and a sore eye, and has been feeling chilly all day, but said he'd come out if this thing looked good to him. But it won't."
 "Then he doesn't hanker for honor?"
 "Honor, stranger? Why, Bill's had honors heaped up on him like a load of hay for the last thirty years. He's the only man for ten miles around that can predict a year ahead as to when the 'inter-hen' is coming!"

BIRDS OF GREAT BURDEN.

Tommy: "What is that queer looking animal in the big pen, mamma?"
 His Mom: "Why, my dear, that is the big by hippo. The stock brought it last week."
 Tommy: "Mamma, the next time you want the pen moved, why don't you change that same stock?"

A BAD STATE.

Andrew: "I don't know how to fix my hair."
 Christina: "Father, will you show them why you're bald on the top of your head before we started."

PAIN PLACED.

Harry: "When I thought you were on the water wagon?"
 Edna: "Sure I was. The last one I drank he stopped me, and he says: 'You're on front of a cabman, he-and I got off scratch for ever-else. Whoopee!'"

A FOREGONE CONCLUSION.

"Would your wife vote if woman suffrage were secured?"
 "No. She'd never be able to get to the polls until after closing time."

LINKED.

Lady: "And you say that there is a link between you and the tramp that called the other day?"
 Hilda: "Yes, mum, we used to be long in the same chain-gang."

She Told Him.

Among the passengers in the train car was a middle-aged woman with a boy about five years and beside her. His questions and answers attracted general attention. He wanted to walk up and down the aisle; he wanted to stand on the seat; he wanted to sit on her lap; he wanted candy and candy. Then he asked where his papa was; when they would be home; why the man opposite had no hair on his head; why the next man to him was fat.

It was all very innocent until the boy walked to the front of the car and kicked a man on the shin. Then the man stood up and roared at the woman:

"That boy is a nuisance, madam!"
 "Yes," she replied.
 "You see it and know it?"
 "Yes."
 "And yet you don't even chide him!"
 "No."
 "But why don't you—why?"
 "The case I'm his step-mother!" was the calm reply as the woman snuggled down into her seat again.

ALL KINDS.

Irate Patron—"But you wouldn't have the nerve to charge me for that kind of a shine, would you?"
 Shoeblick—"Well, doesn't my sign read 'All Kinds of Shines & Cents?'"

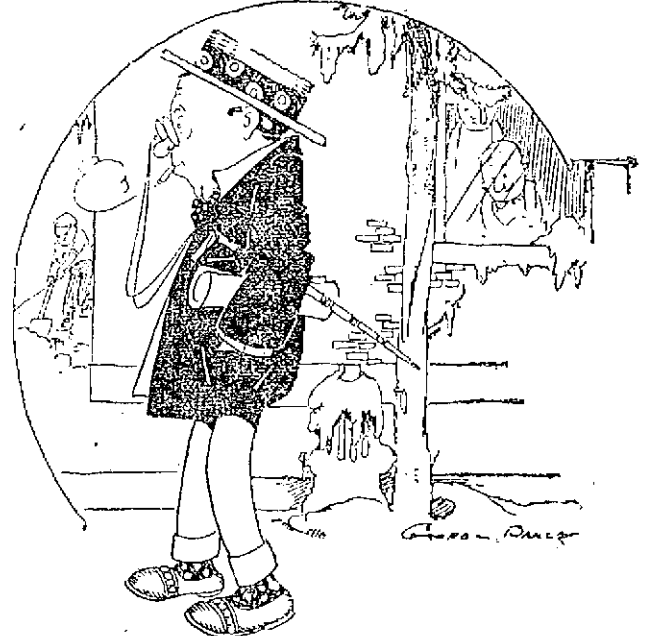

HER DILEMMA.

"Is she a suffragette?"
 "No. But she'd like to be."
 "She'd like to be? Then why isn't she?"
 "She can't make up her mind whether it's a Republican or a Democratic vote she wants."

A Mere Incident.

How did I come to be a member of the well prove a gusher?
 the House at Washington?" repeated the man in the smoking asked.
 "I did."
 "And with the money Jim—"
 "I never asked, sir."
 "But you must have had more or less curiosity about the oil well?"
 "Not the slightest, sir."
 "But, you see—"
 "No, sir, I don't see. I was nominated, elected and went right to work for the country, and up to the present moment I haven't given the oil well a thought. I must make a note of it and ask Jim if it's a gusher!"
 WISE MISSIONARY.
 Head of the Missionary Board—
 "Well, where do you prefer to be sent as a missionary?"
 Prospective Missionary—Where the natives are vegetarians.

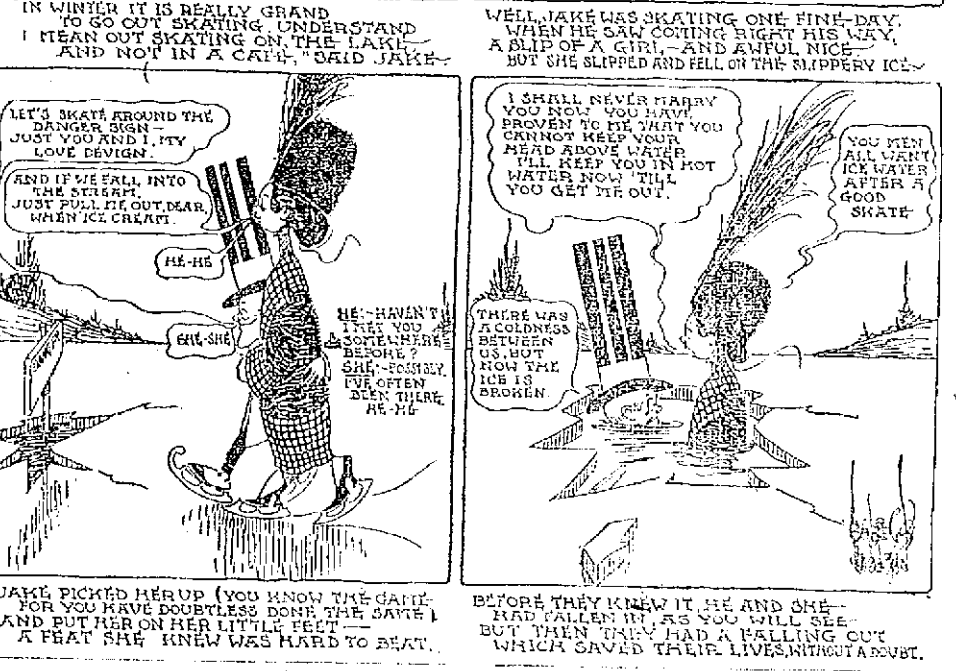

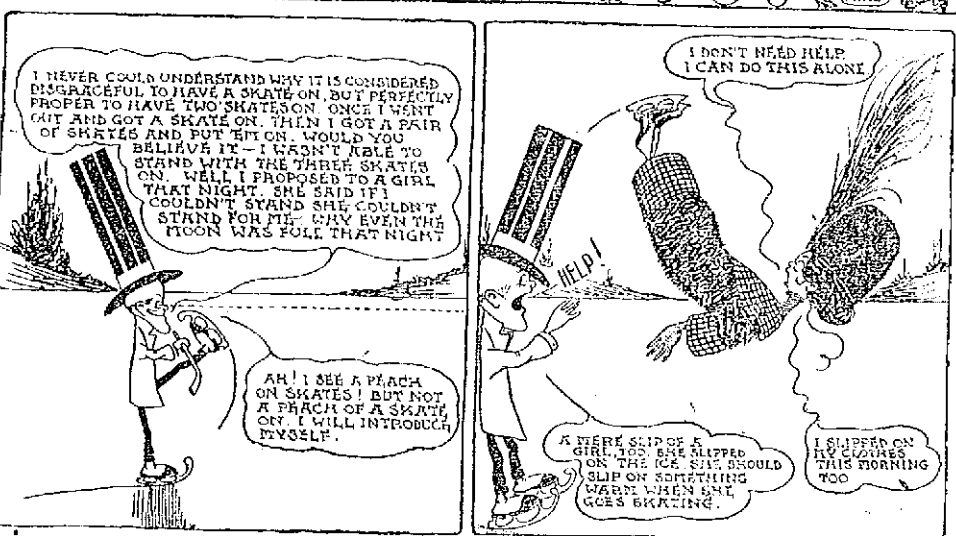

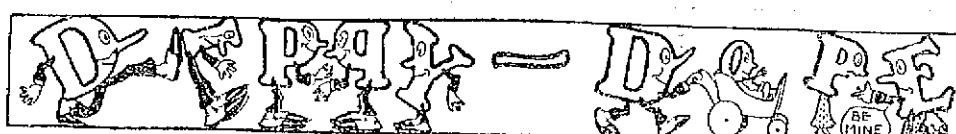

HIS FLIGHT.

"Who's the chap over there wearing a straw hat and white trousers in spring?"
 "He's a magazine editor."
 "Looks like an escaped lunatic."
 "Yes, in summer he goes about with a sealskin cap and a fur lined overcoat."

Could Be Arranged.

When I registered at a Reno hotel a few days ago," said the soap drummer, "the clerk gave me a looking over and whispered:
 "Divorce?"
 "Yes."
 "The best lawyer?"
 "For sure."
 "And the most kind-hearted judge?"
 "That's it."
 "What's the grounds?"
 "Caught her sitting on a man's lap."
 "Then it's a sure case for you. You can almost take the next train back."
 "But it was her father's lap," I explained.
 "For a minute the fellow was non-plussed, but then he rallied and said: 'Oh, but that can all be arranged. Spring on the father and have him swear that he thought he was the family chauffeur at the time!'"

His Particular Friend.

He had a mourning band on his sleeve, and seemed to take great pains to draw attention to it, both the and the stairs and elevators were out of it.
 "That—bad."
 "Other tenants jumped from the windows, but my friend took a look and refused."
 "The height must have appalled."
 "Oh, no, sir. Some one had spilled sawdust on the sidewalk, and my friend saw that if he jumped he would land in it and probably spoil a seven-dollar pair of pants, and so he preferred to die in the flames."
 "I see, sir—I see. Noble young man. Almost a hero. Don't blame him a bit. If he had lived on I could have got him a place as a wooden Indian in front of a tobacco store at five dollars a week."

FITTING PAY.

"Your neighbor seems to be getting fat fees from his business."
 "He ought to."
 "Why?"
 "His business is in reducing flesh."

COULDN'T POOL HIM.

The Crow—He says it's the heat, but, ahem! I know better.
